Property Description

This beautiful country estate has recently been lovingly restored and features a group of 5 properties on the edge of a small Italian hamlet. 4 of the properties are currently successfully used as holiday vacation rentals – the estate provides very flexible accommodation which means it could be suitable for a number of different business or personal ventures. It also has the possibility to create a further 3 accommodations creating 8 in total .

The restoration of the properties has been completed with care respecting the original character of the properties and features include - exposed stone walls, exposed beams, timber and cotto floors., brick vaulted ceilings .

The number of charming stone houses combined with their various sizes make this a very flexible and interesting investment opportunity.

Currently the houses are successfully rented weekly for holiday vacation.

There are also many other possibilities which could include-

A business conference/team building centre

Themed holiday rental maybe Italian cookery classes or Yoga/Pilates or Language courses - the choice is vast

Or also a very interesting investment for a group of friends each making a small investment to have their own vacation home within their own
